In Loving Memory Of Susan Marie Lathrop February 21, 1973-July 27, 1982

THE SEARCH

I went to find the pot of gold
That's waiting where the rainbow ends
I searched and searched and searched and searched
And searched and searched, and thenThere it was, deep in the grass,
Under an old, and twisty bough.
It's mine, it's mine at last . . .
What do I search for now?

- Shel Silverstein

First Row — Karen Rickis, Susan Lathrop, Julie Haas, and Becky Prevost.

Second Row — Brian White and Doug Lathrop.

WHERE THE SIDEWALK ENDS

There is a place where the sidewalk ends And before the street begins, And there the grass grows soft and white, And there the sun burns crimson bright, And there the moon-bird rests from his flight To cool in the peppermint wind.

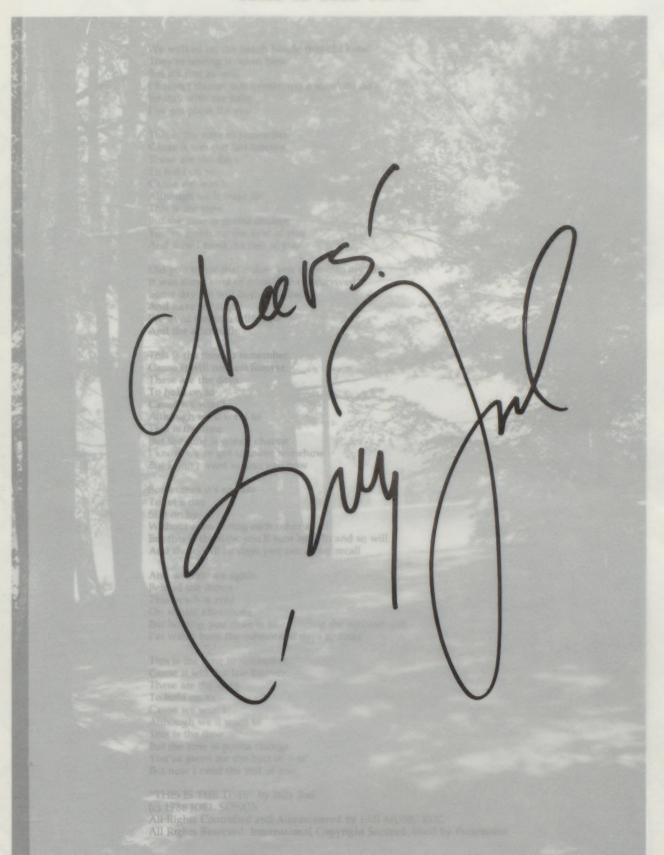

Let us leave this place where the smoke blows black And the dark street winds and bends. Past the pits where the asphalt flowers grow We shall walk with a walk that is measured and slow, And watch where the chalk-white arrows go To the place where the sidewalk ends.

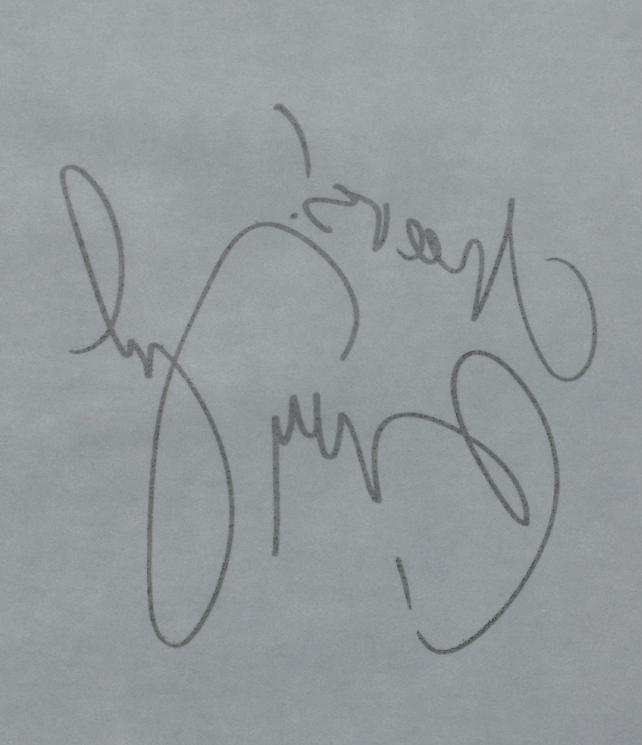

Yes we'll walk with a walk that is measured and slow, And we'll go where the chalk-white arrows go, For the children, they mark, and the children, they know The place where the sidewalk ends.

- Shel Silverstein

THIS IS THE TIME

THIS IS THE TIME

We walked on the beach beside that old hotel They're tearing it down now But it's just as well I haven't shown you everything a man can do So stay with me baby I've got plans for you.

This is the time to remember
Cause it will not last forever.
These are the days
To hold on to
Cause we won't
Although we'll want to
This is the time
But the time is gonna change
You've given me the best of you
And now I need the rest of you

Did you know that before you came into my life It was some kind of miracle that I survived Some day we will both look back And have to laugh We lived through a lifetime And the aftermath.

This is the time to remember
Cause it will not last forever.
These are the days
To hold on to
Cause we won't
Although we'll want to
This is the time
But the time is gonna change
I know we've got to move somehow
But I don't want to lose you now

Sometimes it's so easy
To let a day
Slip on by
Without even seeing each other at all
But this is the time you'll turn back to and so will I
And those will be days you can never recall

And so embrace again
Behind the dunes
This beach is cold
On winter afternoons
But holding you close is like holding the summer sun
I'm warm from the memory of days to come

This is the time to remember
Cause it will not last forever
These are the days
To hold on to
Cause we won't
Although we'll want to
This is the time
But the time is gonna change
You've given me the best of you
But now I need the rest of you

This Is The Time To Remember

... Cause it will not last forever.

These are the days to hold on to ...

You gave me strength to count on you, not even once you were not true.

When I have a problem, you're always there; there's never a time you did not care.

From now on my life will change.

Thanks for being by my side, for all the moments I have cried.

Through the years I've been with you, we've shared our different points of view.

You encouraged me on what I did.

Before I go, I have one thing to say, thanks for being there all the way.

MR. C

Below — Keith Post shaking hands with Mr. C on his last day as principal.

Bottom Left — Jesse Lanier Jr.; the first recipient of the Mr. C scholarship. "A person who loves people and is loved by them."

"He taught me everything I know." — Mr. Picard

"The first day I substituted at the high school he was waiting for me at the front door. He called me by name although we had never met. I have never known a man of such warmth and good will." — Mrs. Rusin

"Mr. C — The man that knows everything . . . and tells nothing." — Mrs. Roy

"Most supportive, positive person I've ever known."

— Mr. Grous

"You made a great situation even greater."

— Mrs. S. Smith

Mr. C was no ordinary administrator. After twenty seven years in Suffield's school system, the mystery still remains; How did he know the name of every freshman on their first day at high school? Mr. C will long be remembered as a man with genuine understanding and compassion for his students. He listened and cared.

Mr. C will never forget the generations of students, faculty, and parents that he has had the pleasure of working with. He believes teenagers are good people and will continue to work with them. Mr. C would like to leave us with one message; "Believe in yourself, set your goals high, be considerate of others, and be the best you can be."

Thank You, Mr. C.

Left — Mr. C . . . Two years old!Above — Captain in the U.S. ArmyTop — One mean football player!

Thank you Mr. C for all that you have done. Everyone at Suffield High School thanks you and wishes you the best of luck.

APPRECIATION

We, the Class of 1991, are greatly honored to express our appreciation to our class advisors, Ms. Robin Sorensen and Mr. Francis Aniello. The countless number of hours they spent working for our class did not go unnoticed, or unheralded. By supporting our class's idea to have our Junior Prom on the Becky Thatcher boat, they not only helped us establish a new trend for proms at Suffield High School, but they also helped us receive statewide media coverage from television station WFSB Channel 3. Also, our class could never have won Spirit Night for three consecutive years without the enthusiasm and dedication of these two caring people. They gave us the opportunity to set out in our own direction and to achieve goals for ourselves which we may have previously considered to be impossible. Therefore, no one in the Class of 1991 will ever forget the support and guidance which they showed us throughout our high school years, which truly are the times to remember.

A farewell message from our advisors:

"As you leave high school to further education, work, and civic duty, use what you have learned at Suffield High School to make a difference. Practice the discipline that supports sound decisions. Learn, create, grow and apply yourselves in service to others. You have extraordinary talents. . .we are proud of you!"

GRADUATES

"For every ending, there is a new beginning — a chance to set new goals,
to dream new dreams,
to rekindle the hope in our hearts.
For endings are a way of rediscovering ourselves,
of learning who we are and what we need in life,
of finding out where we want to go, and who we want to be."

THE STUDENT ASSISTANCE TEAM AT SUFFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

The Student Assistance Team came into being at Suffield High School three years ago. In the summer of 1988, the State of Connecticut offered training in the Student Assistance model and the Suffield High School team was trained at that time. Our Student Assistance Team is composed of the Principal, Vice Principal, Nurse, School Psychologist, Life Education Teachers, and the Guidance Counselors.

The purpose of the Student Assistance Team is to identify students who may have a problem or issue long before that problem or issue becomes a crisis for the student.

In order to accomplish this end, the Student Assistance Team meets once a week in the Principal's office. The discussions are very confidential and the purpose again is to identify through discussion any students who may have needs. If it is decided at that point that the student has specific needs, then a team member is assigned to work with that student to help him or her work through the issue, either with Suffield High School personnel or through a referral to a community agency.

A student may approach any member of the team or any teacher on the Suffield High School staff that he or she feels comfortable sharing their concerns with. The Student Assistance model recognizes that everyone has issues and concerns from time to time which they need help with. Therefore, we would encourage the students at Suffield High to share any concerns that they have with a member of the staff or specific members of the Student Assistance Team.

A SPECIAL THANKS

TO THE FACULTY

TEACHER OF THE YEAR

The 1990-1991 Teacher of the Year is Mrs. Maureen P. Girard who is a special education teacher at McAlister Middle School. Mrs. Girard, who holds a B.S. in Elementary Education from Central Connecticut State University and a M.Ed. in Special Education from Westfield State College, began her teaching careeer 22 years ago, in 1968, as a 3rd grade teacher at Spaulding School.

In 1981, she became a special education teacher at McAlister Middle School. According to Mr. Kane, Vice-Principal of the middle school, "her true abilities as a teacher became apparent when she transferred within the building to an open special education position.'

Mrs. Girard always wanted to be an educator, but it was not until she actually began teaching that she found her strength to be her ability to help children with learning disabilities. To her, it wasn't a question of what she would be teaching, but more of whom she would be teaching. Mr. Kane has said that Mrs. Girard is very deserving of The Teacher of the Year award because she is a model teacher; her love for students comes through again and again. Mr. Kane also said, "Just walking into her room and watching her work with a student for a period of time will tell you that she loves what she is doing and that the students know she is there for them."

Mrs. Girard's own personal philosophy of teaching is that "A competent teacher must deal far beyond the imparting of knowledge. He or she must work with the whole child." Mrs. Girard upholds this venerable principle every single day of the school year.

The selection committee for the Suffield Teacher of the Year consists of representatives from teachers, administrators, educational assistants, and custodian groups in the Suffield school system. Nominations are provided in writing by individuals to the committee and from that pool, the committee selects the teacher of the year. Mrs. Girard received the greatest number of votes out of all the teachers nominated.

The person selected as the teacher of the year receives the overall support of the school system and is chosen to represent all teachers. Mrs. Girard views the teacher of the year selection process as the entire educational community coming together as one and feels that the best part about being chosen as the teacher of the year is having the opportunity to "renew my dedication to being a teacher. It is another spark to say that what I am doing is worthwhile."

another spark to say that what I am doing is worthwhile."

Many students in Mrs. Girard's classes, grades 5-8, have been positively influenced by her guidance when they become academically capable of being placed in mainstream classes. "With successful mainstreaming", says Mrs. Girard, "I am getting my reward — the student has achieved." Stefanie Deenihan, a sixth grade McAlister student who had Mrs. Girard as her primary teacher in math, social studies, and science last year, is now involved in the mainstream academic program. Stefanie owes her success to Mrs. Girard and says that, "Mrs. Girard helped me to get organized and also helped me with most of the work I really had trouble with." According to Mr. Kane, "If we were all able to staff our public schools with professionals of Maureen's caliber, we would have very few problems in American education today." Congratulations, Mrs. Girard, for being selected as the 1990-1991 Suffield Teacher of the Year!

CORINNA

Suffield High School has been very fortunate to have senior Corinna Pubanz as our AFS exchange student this yea. Corinna lives with her parents, older sister, younger brother, and grandmother in Werne, Germany; a town of about 32,000 people which is near the city of Dortmund. Sometimes called Coco, Corinna is staying with Kim Burris for the entire school year. The German school system is very different from our school system here in America. There are thirteen grades in Germany with ten years of school being required for graduation. A German student, however, must attend the entire thirteen years if he or she plans to go on to college. When Corinna returns to her homeland, she will have to go back to school for two more years. She is not quite sure what her post-graduate plans will entail, but she thinks that she will attend college. As Corinna puts it, "I still have time to cide."

In Germany, her school does not have any after-school sports, but one can join a club in order to participate in sports. Corinna's extracurricular activities at home include playing basketball, acting in the school play, and attending a jazz dance class. Coco is currently a member of the J.V. basketball team.

One of the more popular weekend activities in Corinna's hometown is going to the movies. But before any teenagers can go to see their favorite actors and actresses of the silver screen, they must get a ride from Mom and Dad, because the driving age in Germany is eighteen. The drinking age, however, is sixteen and is not regarded as a "big deal." Where jobs are concerned, most students babysit or tutor younger students in order to earn

While Corinna does miss being at home, she feels that what she is experiencing here in America is worth more than what she is missing in Germany. She has wanted to come to the United States ever since she was in eighth grade, and she has been studying English for six years! For Corinna, a very great experience here has been adapting to the American

"Hi, everybody! I am Corinna from Germany and I just wanted to say that I really enjoyed my year in Suffield. I learned a lot and had so much fun. Ich werde euch niemals vergessen! — I'll never forget you! I will come back one day and maybe I will meet one of you. TschuB! — Bye, Corinna."

way of life and becoming a special part of the family with whom she is staying. She didn't really have any expectations about living in Suffield, primarily because she did not know that Suffield was her destination until one week before she planned to leave Germany.

One thing is certain though: Corinna misses her family very much. Early in her stay, she phoned her parents weekly and wrote to them extensively, but this only made her even more homesick. On October 18, just two months after arriving here, Coco received her 41st letter. In the meantime, Suffield has been, and will always be, a home away from home. The faculty and students have been very fortunate to have her as a foreign exchange student this year and hope that she has enjoyed her stay in town. Corinna will always be welcome in Suffield!

The Greatest Infinity of All What is life?
Death?
In order to live an eternal life, We must die,

What is God?
Infinity?
Sorcerer of forever,
The link to all that can be known,

What is a dream?
God?
He talks to us and,
Guides us in our deepest sleep,
What is life now?
A dream?
A growing notebook of them,
That only infinity can complete,

What is the love of God?
Death?
He lets us die,
So that dreams may be fulfilled,
Through eternal life . . .

On August 2, 1990, Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein invaded the small, oil rich country of Kuwait. The United States warned Saddam to pull out of Kuwait or suffer the consequences. Seeing that Saddam had no intention of withdrawing, President George Bush ordered naval ships to block all incoming ships to Iraq. The Sanctions did not work up to President Bush's standards and he set a January 15 deadline for Saddam to pull out of Kuwait or be prepared for war.

One day after President Bush's deadline passed, Saddam showed no intention of withdrawing, The United States began bombing Baghdad and other selected targets in Iraq. On February 22, President Bush gave Saddam a deadline of noon the next day to start the unconditional withdrawal of his troops from Kuwait or be prepared for a brutal ground war. On February 23, with still no sign of an Iraqi withdrawal, the Allied forces, led by the United States, began a military ground assault on Iraqi forces in Kuwait. With the hard-hitting ground assault and the around-the-clock bombings, Iraq soon had no choice but to begin retreating. The Allied Forces encountered little or no resistance and the ground war was a huge success. On February 27, 1991, Kuwait was liberated. At midnight February 28 President Bush ordered a cease to the ground war.

Although some Americans supported our government's decision and some disagreed, we all prayed and hoped for our troops' quick and safe return home.

Whether this is the end of a chapter in history in the Middle East or just the beginning, only time will tell.

SAGITTA STAFF

Last December, Tricia Christian, Lisa Cigal, Adam Mehan, and Mr. Jensen drove to Albany, New York to try to obtain Billy Joel's signature at his concert. After pleading with numerous security guards, we were allowed to leave the paper we wanted signed in Billy Joel's dressing room. After the concert started, we were approached by a security guard, who handed us the paper. It was signed, "Cheers, Billy Joel."
